Inscriptions: Article Processing Charges

Inscriptions is an international, interdisciplinary peer-reviewed journal for contemporary thinking on philosophy, psycho-analysis, and the arts published by Tankebanen forlag. Since this journal is published under an Open Access model, as a rule, publication costs should be covered by Article Processing Charges (APCs), paid by authors, their affiliated institutions, funders or sponsors.

APCs were introduced from our Volume 6 (2023) in order to maintain our current activities, and to introduce new, important services of value to our authors, readers, and the wider community. Generally, authors are asked to contribute € 120/ € 80 (students and the unwaged) to cover publication costs. Authors in particularly difficult circumstances are encouraged to discuss potential discounts or waivers with the Editor-in-Chief prior to submitting their manuscript.

Article Processing Charges

1. are introduced with the purpose of covering the cost of publication, to introduce new, important services, and to the journal's long-term viability.
2. were introduced from Volume 6, Number 1 (2023).
3. are payable for articles that have been accepted for publication, i.e., after the review stage has been completed. Authors receive a reminder to pay APCs with their author's proofs. Payment can be made through a dedicated web-page hosted by Tankebanen forlag. Accepted articles can only be published once payment has been received.

4. amount to € 120/ € 80 (students and the unwaged), payable to Tankebanen forlag's PayPal account, per article. Authors can pay with a credit or debit card or by charging their PayPal account.
5. can be discounted or waived altogether for authors in particularly difficult circumstances. Such arrangements must be agreed with the Editor-in-Chief prior to submission.
6. are not levied on articles submitted by members of Inscriptions' Editorial Board and Advisory Panel.
7. are reimbursed if an article for some reason is not published by Inscriptions within a year of approval.

More information can be obtained by contacting the publisher: post@tankebanen.no.
